DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The phrase "means connecting" is improper and should read "means for connecting". Further, the phrase "hook and loop type fastening means" is vague and indefinite and should read "hook and loop fastening means".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lampers 6,637,493 in view of Forkner 5,597,025.

Lampers sets forth a cord holder comprising a first member 10; a second member 16; means 22 for connecting and urging the first and second members into slidable engagement and including hook and loop material; cord members (inclusive of members 14A and 14B) capable of being stored in a catenary loop; and the method for suspending thereof. What Lampers does not set forth is the decorative matter for concealing the members. However, Forkner teaches the use of decorative matter (inclusive of member 10) for concealing window covering members. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the holder of Lampers by incorporating decorative matter, as taught by Forkner, in order to cover and conceal the cord loops and holder.
